

---

Enterprise Architect (M/W)

STERIA is looking for an experienced Enterprise Architect in order to reinforce its presales and project teams in the design of global IT solutions.

Your Mission:

As a member of a Steria project or presales team, you use your knowledge of the current technologies, methods and future trends to design from the functional needs and existing constraints, a global software architecture, integrating existing products and new developments to build a realistic and reliable solution that will allow for evolution both in functionalities and in charge.

Always uptodate on the current IT platforms and solutions, their interest, their reliability and their complexity, you make blue print studies for the clients. Taking into account the clients existing architecture and their future technology roadmap, you will architect a solution, design the framework, analyze and consider the functionalities, select the technologies, which are most suitable to the client needs.

Throughout the full project life, you will ensure the adequacy of the architecture, coach the developers and monitor the viability of the solution in time.

You share your knowledge of the current IT solutions with your colleagues, by developing a knowledge community, organizing short presentations, writing "white papers", etc.

Your Profile:

You have a computer science degree or equivalent experience and you have minimum 7 years of experience in the IT sector including 2 years in IT solutions design.

You have an excellent knowledge of the OO methodology, design and tools, UP, the Open Systems platforms, the n-tier partitioning.

You master relational databases concepts (RDBMS).

An effective experience in a J2EE, EJB, JSP, JDBC, Web logic environment is a requirement.

You are curious about technologies and understand quickly where and how to use them.

Your native tongue is French or Dutch, an active knowledge of the second national language and English is an asset.

Contact

Elisabeth De Winter
STERIA BENELUX s.a./n.v.
Boulevard du Souverain, 36 Vorstlaan
1170 Bruxelles/Brussel
e-mail : Elisabeth.de-Winter@steria.be www.steria.be